

OVER MEN AND WOOLGROWERS.

The House of Representatives at the present session passed two bills of national importance. One is a tariff measure, a cross between the Wilson and McKinley acts, that is it increases duties on certain articles of import. The other is a bill to provide for the issuance of interest-bearing bonds to provide gold for shipment to Europe. The bills having passed the House were referred in the Senate to the Finance Committee of that body. The committee reported a substitute for the House bill. The substitute provides for the issuance of silver instead of interest-bearing bonds and it is now before the Senate. The tariff bill is still before the Finance Committee. This committee consists of eleven members, of whom Senator Jones is one. The Chairman is Senator Morrill of Vermont and the second man is Senator Sherman of Ohio.

It is charged by the gold press of Nevada, which heretofore urged as a reason for defeating the silver men in the State that our Senators and Representatives had no influence in Congress, at Senator Jones is the cause of the tariff bill being held in committee. The man who a few weeks ago had no influence in the Senate is now held up by the woolgrowers of Nevada as retarding the passage of the Dingley tariff bill though there are ten others on the committee and eighty-eight members of the Senate who can discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill and bring it immediately before the Senate by a majority vote. This implies that Senator Jones has great influence in the Senate when he prevents ten men on a committee of even, and a majority of a Senate of eighty-nine members, including himself, from taking the bill from the committee.

Sensor Jones has had many years' experience as a lawmaker at Washington. He knows that no headway would be made with the Tariff bill until the substitute for the Bond bill is disposed of. When that is out of the way the Dingley bill will doubtless be reported, possibly with an amendment providing for a duty on sugar to encourage the beet sugar industry.

Though there should be no conflict between the silver men and the woolgrowers of Nevada the Republican bosses who want office more than anything else do all in their power to impress woolgrowers with the idea that the silver men are their greatest enemies. The attempt was made to array very sheepowner in the State against Congressman Newlands at the last election and to get them in line against Senator Jones at the next election. Yet Congressman Newlands voted for the Dingley Tariff bill, and there is nothing to indicate opposition on the part of the Senators Jones and Stewart to the measure. They know, as does every intelligent person in the country, that increasing tariff schedules a few cents not going to restore prosperity, but will benefit those engaged in woolgrowing in Nevada, and therefore the Representatives of Nevada in Congress support it. All will admit that the recoinstitution of silver is of paramount importance to the State, and there is no reason why woolgrowers should not reciprocate and support our Senators and Representatives, even though the Republican bosses do object.

SENATOR TILLMAN SPEAKS.

Senator Tillman of South Carolina has delivered his maiden speech in the United States Senate to which he has been elected for six years. The subject was the pending substitute for the Bond bill passed by the House. The galleries were filled and the Senator received close attention. He said all the talk about sound money and maintaining the credit of the United States abroad is a part of a damnable scheme of robbery having for its object the utter destruction of silver as money, the increase of the public debt and the surrender to corporations of the power to issue paper money. He denounced Carlisle as a Judas and Cleveland as a usurper and the most gigantic failure who ever occupied the White House.

Senator Tillman was elected by the Reform Democrats of South Carolina by a majority of 106 on joint ballot of the Legislature. He served a term as Governor of the State previous to his election to the Senate. He is a farmer by occupation and is a forcible speaker. He is aggressive and fearless and as firm a friend of silver as there is in the Senate. His State being almost exclusively dependent upon agriculture has suffered from the depreciation in the price of products caused by the adoption of the single gold standard, and the people are, with the exception of a few Republicans and Cleveland men, unanimously for free coinage, and the electoral vote of the State will be cast next fall for the Presidential candidate who is for the restoration of silver.

NEVADA'S WAR CLAIMS

Senator Stewart from the Committee on Claims has reported favorably the bill making an appropriation to reimburse the States of California, Oregon and Nevada for money expended in organizing and equipping troops during the war. The claims of the three States amount to $4,691,189, principal and interest. Of this Nevada's share is about $450,000. Should our Senators and Representative succeed in getting an appropriation for that amount it would place Nevada in good circumstances financially. The bill will be very likely to pass the Senate, but it is doubtful if Mr. Reed's House will let it get through, as a large majority of the members are not very kindly disposed toward Nevada because of its course on the monetary question.

VESSELS LAUNCHED

A Warship and Merchantman Floated. NEWPORT NEWS, January 30.—The third warship constructed by a private Southern ship yard—the Helena—was launched this morning, and at the same time the largest merchant steamer ever built in this country, with the exception of two trans-Atlantic liners built by the Gramps, glided into the water. The latter was christened the Grand Duchess by Miss Nellie Eldridge of Boston.

The Helena was named by Miss Agner Steele, the daughter of the Mayor of Helena, Montana. Both vessels are the finest types of their class ever turned out of the yard, which soon begins the construction of the mammoth battleships the Kentucky and Kearsarge, authorized by the last Congress.

A Railroad Bridge Sinks.

KITTANNING, January 30.—This morning at 2 o'clock, as freight train No. 68 was passing over the recently completed wooden bridge at Mahoning station, on the Alleghany Valley railway, the structure began sinking and it was with great difficulty that the train was pulled across it. The bridge had sunk two and a half feet and was found impassable for any more trains. All the wrecking crews are at Mahoning. Passengers are suffering no inconvenience, as they are transferred by means of hacks from one side of the creek to the other.

The Stanford Case.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—Argument in the Stanford case involving the liability of the Stanford estate for the Central Pacific bonds, was concluded in the United States Supreme Court yesterday, and the case was taken under advisement. Choate spoke for an hour after the beginning of the day's session, concluding the argument in Mrs. Stanford's behalf, and was followed by Solicitor-General Conrad for the Government. There is no probability of a decision before the beginning of the March term.

Express Car Robbery.

TROT, N. Y., January 30.—A probably extensive express car robbery on the West Shore road has been discovered in this city. A car for Boston was entered between that place and this city and robbed of everything valuable. The car was resailed here and sent to Boston. It is impossible to ascertain what was taken as the waybills are sent direct from New York to Boston.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—The House adjourned early to-day after passing the Poole Widows' Pension bill and the bill to open the forest reservation of Colorado to the location of mining claims.

A Boy Goes With Tramps.

BUFFALO, N. Y., January 30.—The police are on the lookout for John Anderson, a 14-year-old boy, who was induced by tramps to run away with them.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, fell off a train near Springfield, Illinois, while drunk and sustained injuries which may result fatally.

Thomas Botello, a Deputy United States Marshal at Los Angeles, quarreled with his wife yesterday and sent a bullet through the fleshy part of her leg.

A boiler exploded at the Holidaysburg Iron and Nail Works, Pennsylvania, yesterday, killing five persons and injuring more or less seriously a score of others.

The shortage of William Witland, ex-cashier of the Grangers' Bank, San Francisco, is $12,500. Witland is missing, but whether dead or alive cannot be ascertained.

The President's mysterious departure from Washington at midnight on the Maple has been explained. He returned to Washington with thirteen geese and ducks.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York has filed a bill in the United States Circuit Court at Chicago to foreclose on the Lake-street elevated railroad for $7,775,000.

The Secretary of the Interior of Mexico has telegraphed the Governor of Chihuahua that no prize fight must be permitted to take place at Juarez. Five hundred troops will be sent to prevent the fight.

As King Carlos of Portugal was driving through the streets of Lisbon yesterday a laboring man threw a stone at him, striking an aid-de-camp, who jumped from the carriage and held the man until the police arrived.

Rev. Dr. Brown of San Francisco did not make his confidential explanation of Miss Overton's letters to Mrs. S. B. Cooper yesterday as he promised to do, and she and others will endeavor to prevent Dr. Brown from preaching.

Bella A. Lockwood, once a candidate for President on the Woman's Rights ticket has been disbarred from practicing as agent or attorney before the Pension Bureau at Washington. She is charged by the Pension Office of having improperly accepted a $25 fee in a pension case.

Albert H. Verrill, a graduate of Yale and son of Professor Addison Verrill, has been charged with stealing $10,000 of the rarest specimens of taxidermy in the Peabody Institute at Yale. He acknowledged that he had sold many specimens to European dealers. He had $5,000 worth in his possession, which he turned over to the University.

King Charles I of England was beheaded in London, January 30, 1649. Parties of Legitimists assembled at Trafalgar Square with floral offerings, which they attempted to place at the foot of the statue of Charles I, but were prevented by the police. Later, by permission of the Chief of Police, beautiful wreaths inscribed "In memory of the Right King" were permitted to be placed at the foot of the pedestal.

Hugo Klaas was killed at Sacramento by John Hurley last Sunday. Klaas was to be married upon the arrival of his intended bride, Miss Fay Underwood, from Kansas City. She left for Sacramento twenty-four hours before Klaas was killed, and she found his lifeless body in the morgue when she reached that city. Coroner Clark let her enter the room and left her alone with her dead.

Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain have been examining the records in behalf of British Columbia, and claim that under the Anglo Russia treaty of 1825 the United States has no right to 3,000 acres of land on the Prince of Wales Island, on the Pacific Coast, and which the United States has usurped since the purchase of Alaska. The island is popularly known as Penang, and is within 8 or 9 miles of the Malay peninsula. It is about fifteen miles long by five broad and contains about 69,000 acres and a population of 10,000.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

M. G. Oallouette, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail, and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use, and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is every where esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

A DOG THAT REASONED.

He Knew When It Was Safe to Sleep on His Master's Bed.

No one that knew Bombshell ever doubted that he reasoned and thought, but occasionally I would find a stranger who was not inclined to believe it, and then I would tell him the following story. My parlor was a front casemate which opened by an arch into my bedroom, a low casemate. A casemate is described as a room in the wall of a fort, generally intended, in war time, to hold a gun or powder, while in time of peace many of them, like mine, are fitted up for use as quarters for officers and soldiers.

Bombshell had his own bed in the back casemate, but he preferred my bed and would use it whenever he could. I had tried to break him of the habit, but had not been successful.

One day he came in wet and muddy, and, as usual, curled up on my white counterpane. The result was awful. As much as I hated to do so, I felt obliged to give him a thrashing.

I never caught him on my bed again. He would still get on it, but, no matter how quietly I came in, I would always find him on the floor, though I could see from the rumpled condition of the bed that he had been on it, and often the spot where he had slept would still be warm.

One evening I went out, leaving Bombshell lying by the parlor stove. Out of curiosity I peeped through the half-tinted slats of my shutters and watched him. From my position I was able to see the whole of both of my rooms.

For awhile Bombshell did not move, then he used his head and looked at the door. He got up, stretched himself, yawned, leaped, walked to the bed, jumped up, and put his forepaws on it. Standing in this position, the light struck him, and he said to himself:

"Suppose that my master hasn't gone? He will catch me and then I shall get a thrashing. I'll go and make certain that he is not coming back."

I know that he said this because he took his paws off the bed, walked cautiously back to the front door, and, with his ear close to the crack, he listened. At last, satisfied that I had really gone, he trotted back to the bed, jumped on it, curled up and went to sleep.

After such a clever act I thought that he had earned his sleep, so I went away and left him.—St. Nicholas

What a Kind is Like.

In color they are usually no darker, and often not nearly so dark, as southern Europeans. The eyebrows and eyelashes and eyes are generally black, and no eyebrows and hair, and the mouth well rounded. The face is long and oval, while in stature a medium height seems to be general. The chin is shaved, the mustache alone being left, and over it a band of trouble is taken with comb and wax. The hair is usually shaved along the top of the crown, but left long on either side, though little or nothing of it is left, owing to the peculiar and characteristic manner in which the men deck their heads. The Kurd's costume is distinctly his own, and a celt in the south, where he has come more or less under Persian influence, he never abandons it. A high silk pointed cap crowns the head, round which is woven a number of silk scarfs and handkerchiefs in skillfully arranged disorder.

The favorite colors for these turbans are dark claret and gold, with here and there a narrow stripe of some brilliant hue. The rough fringes are left hanging down, as often as not covering the eyes and ears of the wearer and adding not a little to his fantastic appearance. Over a white linen shirt, with sleeves that end in points more than a yard long, so that they touch the ground, a silk coat is worn, crushed strawberry being the favorite color, though cherry color and white satin are almost equally common. These coats are made collarless and open at the neck and fold across the breast, being held in place by a wide silk sash skillfully folded and interwoven. In this sash the long pipe and curved dagger are thrust.—Blackwood's Magazine

A commonplace habitually under the influence of variable feelings acquires a beauty of the highest order from the frequency with which these feelings stamp their character upon it.—Mrs. S. C. Hale.

The Boston Transcript reports that two gentlemen fell into a talk about books.

"What do you think of the 'Origin of Species'?" asked one man.

"I have never read it," was the other's reply. "In fact," he added, "I am not interested in financial subjects."

Literary Versatility.

An editor received the other day a curious application for help. The writer said: "I am sorry you do not like my romance, for I feel that I have the secret fire in my veins. If, however, you can not accept my book or my poetry, will you give me a berth as a heavy goods porter?"—London Bookman.

Garden tools, water pipe, plumbing and tinning at Lange & Schmitt's.

H. Levy & Co. shipped seventeen cars of sheep and cattle west yesterday.

Plows, plow points, land slides, plow handles and beams at Lange & Schmitt's.

H. Ridenour will ship nine cars of sheep to-day, and M. E. Ward three cars of cattle.

The paycar will arrive on Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock and will leave a few shekels in town.

Sidney Pinner returned to San Francisco last evening where he will resume his medical studies.

Eastern prices for watch, clock and jewelry repairing at A. G. Spingler's, east side Virginia street. All work warranted.

Rabe & Middour have in stock the finest of leaf lard; 10 lb. cans $1.25; 5 lb. cans 65 cents, also nice home-made bacon and hams.

J. P. Parkinson, a Carson born and raised boy, has been elevated to the position of society editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The Tribune says John Harrington exhibited a piece of ore at Carson from silver Star district weighing five pounds and worth $800.

Judge Mayenbaum took the train for California last evening, having remained over here yesterday instead of passing west as before reported.

An elegant $800 Chickering upright piano is offered at a bargain. For inspection or information call at the Nevada Market. A. A. TILMAN, Mgr.

Louis Bouvier, formerly of the Hotel Reno, will be the new clerk at the Riverside. The new management takes charge on the 1st of the month.

For natural looking and comfortable fitting artificial teeth go to Hutchinson. His painless extracting is just the thing. Office Sunderland's building.

Emrich will sell during the week wool, extra super ingrain carpets at 50 cents per yard, fully worth 75 cents. Such a bargain was never offered before.

The Appeal learns that Attorney Coffin has secured the services of Pat Reddy to defend him in case of a Grand Jury indictment for bribery in the Heney case.

Next Monday is steamer day and collectors will be as thick as bees. The County Commissioners will meet in monthly session and February will open up with an activity that indicates a good spring trade.

Those having invitations to the social dances to be given by Company C, N. G., are notified that the date of the next party has been changed to this Friday evening, instead of next week, as previously announced.

The San Francisco Argus offers to produce the man who stole the tin treasure box from the V. & T. express car some two years ago if Superintendent Yerington will pay sufficient reward. Will wonders ever cease at Carson?

Remember Professor Krall's musicale on the 4th of February. It will be a benefit for the gymnasium fund, and is given to help the students raise the $1,000 that they have agreed to pay. Help them out and enjoy a splendid entertainment.

Joseph Langevin's house was stoned the other evening at Carson. Windows were broken and Mrs. Langevin frightened nearly to death. The annoyance that this man has received of late will cause someone to get badly hurt and it will serve them right.

The last day of January. The hard winter prospected by weather sharps a few months ago is nearly over. There is comparatively little snow on the mountains, the grass in some of the valleys is over an inch high and the wild flowers about to bloom.

Tomorrow is Native Sons and Don aer Day at Truckee. It is not anticipated that the Ice Palace will be in very good shape, but visitors will be given a sleigh ride to Tahoe and the people of Truckee will do everything to make the day an enjoyable one.

Has our contemporary gone back on woman suffrage? It is now up in arms because women have been employed as copyists in some of the county offices. Verily, "for ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain our contemporary is very peculiar, and that same a study of its course will maintain."

Another large jewelry firm, Nat Rafael of San Francisco, has gone to the wall. The store was known as the Diamond Palace and had a reputation all over the coast. The season seems to be a bad one for jewelers, this being only one of several firms that have gone by the board in the last few months. Many causes are assigned for the failures, but the principle one is that when people can hardly pay for the necessities of life the jewelry business has little show.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC TAXES.

The Attorney-General Tells How They Were Collected.

In his annual report to the Governor Attorney-General Beatty has the following regarding the Central Pacific tax collection, for which Washoe county paid $350:

March 17th—Received information from F. H. Norcross, District Attorney of Washoe county, that a certain case of the U. P. R. R., plaintiff in error, against the State of Nevada, involving a question of taxes, had never been decided by the United States Supreme Court; I at once investigated and ascertained that in the matter a writ of error had been pending since it was sued out in 1889, and had never been determined, and at once gave notice to the plaintiff in error and its attorneys, Messrs. Baker & Wines, and local agent, Hon. Evan Williams, that I would move in the Supreme Court of the United States to have the writ dismissed on a certain day. After considerable backing and filling on the part of the plaintiff in error, it, through its attorneys, agreed with me that if they found the facts to be as I stated them they would settle and pay up all moneys due under the judgment of the District Court as obtained in 1889, and also the amount of taxes claimed by Washoe county, which had remained in abeyance subject to the decision and disposition of the writ of error named, and after a trip to San Francisco and consultation with Hon. G. W. Baker, attorney for plaintiff in error, plaintiff in error settled the whole controversy by paying in full to Mr. Norcross, as District Attorney of Washoe county, all claims of the State and county in the matter, as follows:

Original tax	$1,146 88
Ten per cent. penalty	114 68
Additional penalty	286 72
Advertising costs	101 85
Interest on judgment, at 7 per cent.	751 76
Total	$2,401 87

And I therefore ordered all proceedings in the Supreme Court of the United States dismissed and discharged, without expense to the State of a trip to Washington or one dollar's outlay, except my fare to San Francisco. Thus was collected the taxes from the railroad company due ever since the year 1887.

WHAT WE ARE COMING TO.

Elaborate Rules of Hygiene Which Are to be Observed.

Scene: A school room in the year 1900.

Teacher (to new boy)—Hans, have you got your certificate of vaccination against smallpox?

"Yes, sir."

"Have you been inoculated for diphtheria?"

"Yes, sir."

"Have you had an injection of cholera bacillus?"

"Yes, sir."

"Have you a written guarantee that you are proof against whooping cough, measles and scarlet fever?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you provided with your own drinking cup?"

"Yes, sir."

"Will you make a solemn promise never to exchange sponges with the other boys and never to use any other pencil but your own?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you agree to have your books fumigated with sulphur and your clothes sprinkled with chloride of lime once a week?"

"Yes, sir."

"Hans, I see that you fulfill all the requirements of modern hygienics. Now you can climb that wire, place yourself on an isolated aluminum seat and commence doing your sums."

A WEEK OF AMUSEMENT.

Grace Plaisted and Her Company to Play Here Two Nights.

On Friday evening the Grace Plaisted Musical Comedy Company will appear at McKissick's Opera House for a two night's engagements and they will present their repertoire consisting of "Tina" and the "Gutta Percha Girl."

The pieces selected by Miss Grace Plaisted in this, her starring tour, are all of a widely different character, yet calculated to the enormous versatility of the artist. The opening piece of Friday night will be "Tina," a musical comedy. The piece abounds in musical numbers and is replete with solos, duets and quartettes. Saturday evening the pretty comedy of the "Gutta Percha Girl" will be given. As this company plays it is entirely different from others that have presented it. It has been brought up to date by interpolations of musical specialties and the plot of the comedy is one of the funniest and merriest ever seen on the English speaking stage.

Sets now on sale at Lake's Book Store at 75 cents reserved.

SENATOR TILLMAN'S SPEECH.

One of the Most Remarkable in the History of the Senate—Directness of Statement and Dramatic Delivery.

The opening speech of Senator Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina on the substitute for the bond bill created a sensation in Washington. Such a torrent of invectives has seldom been heard in the Senate. The veteran members of that body characterized the speech as one of the most remarkable in the history of the upper branch of Congress. It abounded in statements of a sensational character arraigning President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle and other men in high places for attempting to destroy silver as money. There was a directness of statement and a dramatic manner of delivery which awed the floor and galleries. Gestures were used frequently by the Senator in uttering his words. At one point he made a profound salute and then tipped his hat to Sherman "as the financial victor of the last quarter of a century." The galleries were moved alternately to applause and laughter. Pausing for a sip of water, amid roars of laughter, he remarked: "I seldom wet my whistle while I speak, still you can't run a windmill on water." Next there was a hush through the chamber as the Senator applied such names as "Judas" to a member of the Cabinet or characterized the President in bitter terms. At times the Senator's voice sank to a whisper, as for instance, when he gave warning of the approach of a popular revolution and communism and the marching on Washington of a host with rifles in their hands. Again his voice resounded through the chamber and the outer corridors as he called the Senators and members "cowards" for not resorting to impeachment.

The Dispatch says word has gone out that the S. P. Co. will take off their pay car. Hereafter employees will receive a voucher on the 21st of each month.

The St. Louis Reporter says: Stock-raising is a legitimate business and it has its ups and downs. The country will some day pass all records of production and consumption. Had any man in 1882 predicted the cattle supply of 1892 he would have been considered a driving idiot. If the "cattle shortage" should bring us back to the supply of 1882 we would soon draw on South America and Australia for clean meat.

The committee appointed to consider the charges of immorality against Dr. Rev. O. R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco has refused to act on the ground that it has no power. It was announced that at the conclusion of the trial of Mrs. Mary Davidson, who was arrested at the instance of Dr. Brown on a charge of blackmail, the charges against the minister will be heard by a tribunal of the church.

A Reno Composer Recognized.

It will be remembered that the JOURNAL mentioned a short time ago that Miss Gertrude Hollingsworth had written and dedicated a march to the University cadets. Word was received last evening that the march will be played by Roncovieri's American Band at the park in San Francisco and it will be placed prominently on the program together with the name of the composer. It will be published in sheet music form, also for military bands, the latter arrangement being by one of the best bandmen on the coast. The title page will be quite elaborate and of a local character. The first edition will be 1,000 copies, a large number of which are already spoken for. Miss Hollingsworth is to be congratulated on the success of her first publication, for few writers receive recognition from such professional musical combination as Roncovieri's on their first attempt. This recognition shows that the young lady has considerable ability and that her composition has extra merit.

Chas. Roundey, the popular mail agent, attended the Chosen Friends social on Wednesday evening and while sitting at the refreshment table his time was so taken up by the beauty and wit immediately in his vicinity that he forgot to eat a mouthful of the sandwiches or cake with which his plate was loaded, and what was worse he had gone without his supper earlier in the evening, consequently had to go to bed hungry.

W. A. Moore, the man arrested here a day or two ago by Constable McInnis on a telegram from Carson has been sent to jail. It has now developed that he tried to impose upon Rev. Mr. Wilson at Carson by presenting a forged letter to him representing that it was from Rev. Whittaker of Virginia City.

Scrofula From Birth

Other Medicines Utterly Failed But Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"Some time since, our boy then four years old was in the hands of the family doctor for treatment for scrofula. He had been afflicted with this trouble from birth and we had been unable to give him

Only Temporary Relief. We decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla and are glad to say 6 bottles of Hood's entirely cured him. Our oldest daughter has been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism with good results. We have used from first to last some $10 worth of the medicine and have received the equivalent of several hundred dollars' worth of doctor's treatment and good health to boot. We cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. It is all that is claimed for it." C. E. MYERS, Winona, Kansas.
